Land Acknowledgement: We recognize that many Indigenous nations have longstanding relationships with the territories upon which York University campuses are located that precede the establishment of York University. York University acknowledges its presence on the traditional territory of many Indigenous Nations. The area known as Tkaronto has been care taken by the Anishinabek Nation, the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, the Wendat, and the Métis. It is now home to many Indigenous Peoples. We acknowledge the current treaty holders and the Mississaugas of the Credit First Nation. This territory is subject of the Dish With One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, an agreement to peaceably share and care for the Great Lakes region.

Course Prerequisite(s):
- HH/PSYC 1010 6.00 (Introduction to Psychology), with a minimum grade of C.

Course website: eClass

Course format: Please note that this course will be delivered remotely via Zoom. You will need a stable internet connection and a device with which you are able to access the course for synchronous meetings. Course lecture content will be pre-recorded and presented on eClass prior to synchronous meetings, which will take place each Monday/Wednesday from 11:30 to approximately 12:30. You are encouraged, but not required, to attend synchronous meetings each Monday and Wednesday. During these meetings, you will interact with your peers to share your work in small breakout groups. You may do this using video or audio on Zoom.

Accessing the Teaching Team:
- Please use the Q and A Forum on eClass to ask questions about course requirements/schedules; the Teaching team will be monitoring this forum and answering questions and concerns promptly. This will be the FASTEST way to get a response to your question.
• If you have a question regarding assessment or would like to discuss your development in the course, please contact the Teaching Assistant assigned to your surname:
  o A through J surnames: contact TA George Tomou.
  o K through Z surnames: contact TA Cecilia Evoy
• As email loads are exceptionally high during remote courses, please respect normal business hours with email. TAs are not required to reply to emails outside of business hours (e.g., they do not work evenings or weekends and may take some time to reply to your email. This is particularly true prior to assignment deadlines; if you have a question regarding assignments, be sure to email early in order to receive a reply before the deadline).
• Please also reserve the use of email to Dr. Conder for personal concerns only (i.e., cannot be addressed through use of the Q and A forum or your Teaching Assistant).
• Please see the “netiquette” guide on eClass for guidance for tips on how to interact professionally online throughout the course.

Course Description
This course develops university-level writing and communication ability. Students will write about psychological content; however, this course aims to develop general written communication skills that are broadly transferable. Emphasis will be placed on learning to write coherent arguments and explanations. Students will learn how psychological texts present information to effectively communicate with a reader. Students will develop the capacity to critique and improve their own writing. Critical thinking and logical reasoning skills are taught and practiced for the purpose of improving written communication. By analyzing psychological writing students will discover the form and structure of effective writing in Psychology. Readings and class discussions will increase understanding of how to write effectively. In-class writing exercises will be used to practice principles and ideas discussed. Providing feedback on the writing of peers will increase students’ capacity to reflect on and improve their own writing. Students will be guided, step-by-step, through the process of completing a larger writing assignment. Extensive feedback will be provided and multiple drafts of writing assignments will be completed. This course will prepare students for advanced writing assignments in upper year University courses and contribute to overall progress towards the advanced level of literacy expected of an educated citizen. At the end of the course, students will be able to develop a written argument on a controversial issue in psychology.

Learning Outcomes
Upon completion of this course, students should be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of the basics of scientific writing.
2. Demonstrate effective written communication.
3. Demonstrate the ability to think critically about written communication.
4. Demonstrate the ability to find and evaluate credible scholarly literature.

Specific Learning Objectives

1. Demonstrate ability to cite sources appropriately according to APA standards.
2. Place a claim into context within the relevant academic literature
3. Distinguish and effectively use different types of research literature (i.e. reviews, meta-analyses, individual studies etc.) to support an argument
4. Demonstrate proficiency with spelling, punctuation, grammar and sentence structure
5. Demonstrate ability to adhere to the conventions of academic writing in psychology
6. Develop a clear written claim statement and provide evidence from scholarly sources to support it
7. Structure academic writing to effectively communicate a claim and supporting detail with logical flow
8. Explore, consider, and rebut alternative points of view in academic prose
9. Consider and communicate the implications of a claim
10. Give and receive peer feedback as part of a regular revision process
11. Appreciate the difference between conjecture and interpretation of data
12. Appreciate when empirical observation vs. theoretical analysis / synthesis is needed to support a claim

Required Texts
- There is no required text for this course; required readings will be posted on eClass.

Recommended/useful texts:
If you are interested in improving your academic writing in psychology, I recommend the following text:
* If you are going on in Psychology (e.g., planning on graduate school), you may wish to purchase an APA Publication Manual (7th Ed.) or the Concise Guide to APA Style (7th Ed.).

General Class Structure:
- Lecture content will be posted on eClass prior to synchronous class sessions
- 11:30 to ~12:30 Fridays: Synchronous online classroom work on Essay (i.e., in class peer review and instructor led guidance in breakout groups)

Homework per week:
- 30 minutes revising classroom writing exercise & uploading drafts and feedback
- 30 minutes hours reading assigned and research-related books / articles
- ~1 hour watching pre-recorded lecture content
• 2 hours working on essay outside of class (essay components, research, and overall development)

Description of Assignments:

Writing Exercises (Pass/Fail; for engagement points):
From class 3 to class 9 you will create brief Writing Exercises on a topic related to the lecture and based on assigned Journal Articles. These exercises are designed to help you build fundamental reading and writing skills. Your completed Writing Exercise must be uploaded to eClass by 10 pm the day of synchronous session and will contribute to your Engagement Points. See your Writing Exercises Guide for more details. Given everything is being done online, you will still be able to participate if you have to miss synchronous class. Missed WE engagement points cannot be made up. Therefore, if you are unable to submit an exercise, for ANY reason, you will lose the opportunity to receive engagement points for the missed work. At the end of the course, you will be asked to select your Best Writing Exercise and submit it for evaluation. In appropriate circumstances, and with appropriate documentation, the deadline for the submission of your Best Writing Exercise can be extended.

For a complete guide to Writing Exercises and deadlines, see Writing Exercises Guide on eClass.

Mini-reflections (P/F; for engagement points):
Mini-reflections will be submitted after each class on eClass for engagement points. These reflections will be based on provided questions regarding your learning and experiences throughout the course, and should take approximately 10-15 minutes to complete. Mini-reflections are due by 10 pm on the day of synchronous session. Missed mini-reflection engagement points cannot be made up. Therefore, if you are unable to submit by the deadline, for whatever reason, you will lose the opportunity to receive points for whatever you miss.

Essay and Essay Components (EC submissions P/F for engagement points; EC bundles 1-4 and 1-6 for evaluation):
Over the duration of the course you will write one argumentative essay on a controversial issue in psychology. This essay will be broken down into smaller assignments (Essay Components) that together will build to the final essay. Each class we will spend time in class working on your essay. From class 2 through class 11, you will be expected to submit your Essay Component on eClass by 11:30 am on the day of synchronous session for engagement points. In session, you will share your work and ideas with peers in small breakout rooms. The deadlines for submitting Essay Components are fixed and cannot be extended. Therefore, if you are unable to participate in a class, for whatever reason, you will lose the opportunity to receive marks for whatever you miss. In appropriate circumstances, and with appropriate documentation, the deadline for the submission of your Essay Components Bundles can be extended.
You will also submit essay component bundles for TA/instructor feedback and evaluation on two occasions:

Essay components 1-4; due May 26 (worth 20% of final grade)
Essay components 1-6; due June 7 (worth 30% of final grade)

For a complete guide to Essay Components and deadlines, see Essay Components Guide on eClass.

Choosing an Essay Topic

Your essay for this class must be argumentative. This means that you will choose a controversial issue in psychology and choose a position that you will argue (and support with empirical evidence) regarding that topic.

Example essay topics*:

- Is helicopter parenting beneficial to young people?
- Should we use animals in psychological research?
- Are children with ADHD prescribed medication too often?
- Why has depression become such a widespread illness?
- Why are superhero movies so popular?

*These topics are examples. You may use these or choose your own topic. Be aware that your topic must be a controversial issue that may be reasonably argued from two sides.

Grading as per Senate Policy

The grading scheme for the course conforms to the 9-point grading system used in undergraduate programs at York (e.g., A+ = 9, A = 8, B+ = 7, C+ = 5, etc.). Assignments and tests* will bear either a letter grade designation or a corresponding number grade (e.g. A+ = 90 to 100, A = 80 to 90, B+ = 75 to 79, etc.)

(For a full description of York grading system see the York University Undergraduate Calendar - calendars.students.yorku.ca/2016-2017/academic-and-financial-information/academic-services/grades-and-grading-schemes

Late Work/Missed Tests or Exams

Late assignments will be accepted up to one week after the deadline including weekend days. If your assignment is late, you will be deducted a late penalty of 5% per day, including weekend days. Late assignments will NOT be accepted after one week of the missed deadline (25% off).

Engagement points missed for Writing Exercises, weekly Essay Components, and mini-reflections cannot be made up. Do not email late work to your TAs or instructor; you will not receive credit for late engagement work.

Students with a documented reason for missing a deadline, such as illness, compassionate grounds, etc., which is confirmed by supporting documentation (Attending Physician Statement which can be found at: http://myacademicrecord.students.yorku.ca/pdf/attending-physicians-statement.pdf) may request accommodation from the Course Instructor. Further extensions or accommodation will require students to submit a formal petition to the Faculty.

If you are missing a deadline due to illness, compassionate grounds, etc., you must contact me (conder@yorku.ca) to submit documentation within 48 hours of missing the deadline in order to have your work considered for grading without a late penalty.

Important New Information Regarding Missed Tests

For any missed tests or late assignments, students MUST complete the following online form which will be received and reviewed in the Psychology undergraduate office: HH PSYC: Missed Tests/Exams Form. Failure to complete the form within 48 hours of the original deadline will result in a grade of zero for the test/assignment.
